DINNERS.

A charming social affair of the week was the dinner given on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tooley, in honor of W. A. Uman and William Rhodes, of New York.

The menu was served in seven courses. American beauty roses occupied the central position on the table, over which red shaded candles shed their soft light.

Those at the table were: W. A. Uman, William Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McNary, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pfaff, Mrs. Josephine N. Morfit, Robert Moss.

Britton Davis was the host on Wednesday evening at a beautifully appointed Mexican dinner, given at his home on San Antonio street. Poinsettias and ferns were in the center of the table, which was illumined with glowing red shaded candles. The attractive cards marking the places were in Mexican bead design.

The guests in attendance were: Misses Maud Austin, Elizabeth Barton, Henrietta Buckler, Kathleen Myles, Virginia Semple, Anne Lee Gaines, Messrs. Walter Arnold, Garrett King, F. W. Brabson, J. C. Morrow, Dr. J. B. Vance.

Chapped hands and lips are quickly healed by the application of White's Almond and Witchhazel Cream. School children suffer greatly from chapped hands, and mothers will find that this preparation brings quick relief. White's Almond and Witchhazel Cream is made, and sold, by Scott White & Co., Prescription Drugstore, 204 Mills St.

WEDDINGS.

A simple but beautiful ceremony took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church in Tucumcari, N. M., when Miss Benie McGill became the wife of Charles F. Sensner, a government immigration inspector, formerly of El Paso, and now stationed at Benson, Ariz. The bride, a beautiful brunet, was charming in her wedding gown of imported brown crepe elaborately trimmed with golden bands and motifs. She wore a black velvet picture hat and carried an arm bouquet of Parma violets.

Mrs. Sensner comes of one of Austin's best known families. She lived there until two years ago, when she went to her ranch near Tucumcari. Mr. Sensner is a member of a well known family of Washington, D. C., being a son of Geo. W. Sensner, a retired naval officer.

Hundreds of presents were received. Among them was a chest of heirloom silver which had been in the groom's family for over 100 years, and a Limoges china dinner set which was bought by admiral Sensner while he was in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Sensner will make their home in Benson, Ariz.

Mrs. Chris Moorhead gave an elaborate dinner at her handsome new home in Tucumcari after the Sensner-McGill wedding. Mrs. C. C. McGill, mother of Mrs. Sensner, was a joint honoree.
